London Living Wage

Last week was Living Wage Week 2022. Coin Street are proud to be part of the network of thousands of Living Wage employers in the UK.

The campaign for a Living Wage was launched in London in 2001 by Citizen's UK, when the minimum wage was set at just £3.70 per hour across the UK. The campaign was a great success, galvanising hospitals, schools, local organisations and institutions to pay their employees a Living Wage.

In 2011 the movement went national, the first UK Living Wage was launched, and the Living Wage Foundation was set up to recognise and celebrate the businesses that choose to go further than the government minimum.

The real Living Wage is £10.90 across the UK and £11.95 in London and is a voluntary wage paid by employers who have signed up to the real Living Wage campaign.

That's why you'll see us supporting Living Wage Week across our social media and website. We are proud to make this commitment to our staff to pay a real Living Wage.

You can find out more information about the Living Wage Foundation, their history and how the real Living Wage is calculated on their website: <https://www.livingwage.org.uk/>

Have a great weekend all.
